STEWART, OIL MAN, IS UNWILLING WITNESS

BALKS AT TESTIFYING TO COMMITTEE

SAYS HE GOT NOTHING FROM
CONTINENTAL TRADING
COMPANY DEAL

DECLARES HE NEVER GAVE ANY
OF THE BONDS TO A POLI-
TICAL PARTY

By PAUL R. MALLON

Washington, Feb. 2.—Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the Indiana Standard Oil Company board, refused to tell the senate Teapot Dome committee today what he knew about the mysterious disposition of $3,000,000 profits of the Continental Trading Company.

"I never got a dollar out of the deal personally," Stewart said. "I never gave any of the bonds to any political party, any government official or any official of any municipality."

"Further than that I must decline an answer."

Senator Walsh of Montana announced the committee would give Stewart another chance to answer tomorrow and that if he persisted, contempt proceedings would be begun against him. He would either be taken into custody or cited to the district attorney for court contempt action, Walsh indicated.

Senator Walsh asked him to tell what he knew of formation of the Continental Trading Co., organized to buy millions of barrels of oil at $1.50 a barrel and sell it immediately for $1.75. The committee seeks the reason behind the company's formation and what became of all the profits, some of which went to former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall, after he leased Teapot Dome to Harry F. Sinclair.

Earlier witnesses had testified Stewart attended a meeting in New York when the Continental Trading Company was formed and that he, with Sinclair, had guaranteed the concern.

Stewart told the committee his company (Standard Oil Co. of Indiana) owned half the stock of the Sinclair Pipe Line Company, but he did not know whether there was any interlocking directorate between his company and the Prairie Oil and Gas Company.

"A very fine old gentleman, Col. Humphreys, who was one of the best wild caters in the oil business, in the summer of 1921 brought in the Mexia fields," Stewart said. "His friend was H. M. Blackmer of Denver (missing oil witness and former head of the Midwest Refining Company)."

Stewart admitted he guaranteed the contract whereby the Continental made the $3,000,000 profits the committee is tracing but said he had to do it to get the oil.

"It was just like guaranteeing a note after the note is paid," Stewart said.

For that reason he joined with Harry Sinclair, he said, to consummate the deal.

From these $3,000,000 profits, the committee already has learned that Sinclair sent $233,000 to former Secretary of Interior Fall after Fall had leased Teapot Dome to Sinclair.

Stewart said he heard A. E. Humphreys of the Mexia field, after a Pure oil deal, was willing to sell the other half of his output.

SHORT AND LONG HAUL RATES TOPIC

Washington, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Senator Gooding, (Rep., Idaho) may not press for action on his bill prohibiting railroads from charging proportionately higher rates for short than for long hauls, he told the United Press yesterday.

Several railroads have voluntarily consented to change their rate schedules to eliminate discrimination against short haul shippers," Gooding said, "and if the others take similar action, I shall not press the bill."

Senator Gooding has led the fight for federal legislation to eliminate the practice of charging proportionately higher rates on shipments to Rocky Mountain states than to the Pacific coast.

LOWLY 'HOT DOG' ARGUMENT SPLITS TOWN OF FAIRMONT

Fairmont, Minn., Feb. 2.—(UP) The lowly "hot-dog" and his brother hamburger are reasons for a split in the tranquility of Fairmont's city council.

Whether a "hot dog" wagon is a vehicle or a structure is the question.

In order to properly answer it, city dads have searched through dusty records of Fairmont's earlier day to learn if at some other time this question had been settled.

A weenie and bun vendor, seeking to locate on one of Fairmont's main streets, is the cause for consultation.

PROBE OPERATION, GIRL TRIED TO CURE HER BOW LEGS

SUFFERED THE AMPUTATION OF
BOTH LEGS AFTER STRAIGHT-
ENING OPERATION

CHICAGO AUTHORITIES, STATE'S
ATTORNEYS AND THE STATE
DEPARTMENT BUSY

Chicago, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Two groups of investigators today inquired into the circumstances surrounding operations on Miss Sadie Holland, who first underwent an operation designed to straighten her bowed legs, and later suffered amputation of both legs.

The state's attorney's office and the state department of registration both conducted investigations of the operations.

Dr. Henry J. Schireson, plastic surgeon, and Dr. S. D. Zaph, orthopedic surgeon, performed the leg straightening operation. Later, Dr. William Van Doren, Holland family physician, examined the girl and decided to move her to another hospital.

Dr. Van Doren called a surgeon into consultation and it was found that gangrene made amputation of both legs necessary to save Miss Holland's life.

Dr. Schireson, in New York, sent word here today that he considered the entire affair was "a case of professional abduction."

He said the girl was improving rapidly and the "operation was a complete success" until she was moved from the original hospital.

Schireson said the removal was objected to but that "certain relatives of Miss Holland insisted upon it."

"I shall institute suit for $250,000 against the two physicians who took away my patient," he said. "It was nothing more or less than a professional abduction."

Schireson contended the gangrene set in after the removal.

DISCOVER SKULL PIERCED BY BULLET

Denver, Colo., Feb. 2.—(UP)—Discovery of a skull pierced by a bullet hole and wrapped in newspapers dated May 7, 1880, was believed today to have revealed an unrecorded murder.

The skull was found by workmen excavating beneath a tire shop.

STARTS LONG FLIGHT IN FLIVVER PLANE

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 2.—(UP)—Capt. Joseph Donnellan left Atlanta airport at 8:30 A. M. today for Miami, Fla.

Capt. Donnellan is en route to South and Central America on an air tour to demonstrate the practicability of long distance flights in small inexpensive planes.

The Chicago flier said he might continue his flight to Havana today, if weather conditions permitted.

Jury in Hickman Case Hears How Defendant Lured Little Marion Parker From School

N. P. TO HAVE LARGEST STEAM LOCOMOTIVE

ORDER PLACED FOR CONSTRUCTION OF LARGEST EVER
BUILT IN AMERICA

TO HAVE LENGTH OF 121 FEET,
NEARLY HALF A CITY
BLOCK LONG

St. Paul, Feb. 2.—The Northern Pacific Railway Company today placed an order for construction of the largest steam locomotive ever built in America.

F. E. Williamson, vice president in charge of operation, in making the announcement, gave these details of the specifications:

The locomotive will have a length of 121 feet, nearly one-half as long as an ordinary city block.

Its total weight, including tender, will be 1,082,500 pounds, or 541 tons.

It will have a fire box 22 feet, 2 inches long by 9 feet, 6 inches wide. Its tender will hold 26 tons of coal and 20,000 gallons, or 75 tons of water.

The enormous weight of this colossal will be carried on 20 pairs of wheels, 8 pairs of which will be driving wheels.

The Northern Pacific last year placed in service to haul its North Coast Limited through the mountain country, 12 of the largest steam passenger locomotives ever brought in to the northwest. These locomotives are 104 feet in length. The new engine will be 17 feet longer.

The new locomotive just ordered is to be used between Mandan, N. D., and Glendive, Mont., where ruling grades of one per cent predominate. On account of these steep grades it has been impossible to handle with one locomotive east out of Glendive and west out of Mandan, the tonnage that can be handled in to those terminals with one of the Mikado type locomotives now assigned to that territory.

It is now necessary to reduce the tonnage in both directions through this territory, and assignment of this large locomotive will enable the railway company to move the same tonnage through this area as is delivered to it from either end.

The tractive power of the Mikado type is 63,460 pounds, while the tractive effort of the new locomotive will be 137,000 pounds.

The trailer will be equipped with a booster which will exert a tractive effort of 13,400 pounds, making the total for the locomotive 150,400 pounds.

The locomotive, which introduces many new construction problems, has been designed entirely by Northern Pacific engineers. The principal problem is the ability of a mechanical stoker properly to distribute coal over a fire-box which is larger than any heretofore built.

"This locomotive will be the largest and most powerful steam locomotive ever constructed," Mr. Williamson said. "In addition to the enormous size of this unit of power, perhaps the most interesting feature is the fire-box, which has been designed to burn semi-bituminous coal mined at the Northern Pacific's open strip mines at Colstrip, Mont. In order to handle the large quantity of fuel required for operating a locomotive of these proportions it has been necessary to provide a fire-box with a width of 114 inches and length of 266 inches, with a grate 144 inches by 230 inches, giving a grate area of 183 square feet. This is without exception the largest locomotive fire-box ever constructed and it was necessitated on account of the desire to burn this low-grade fuel at combustion efficiencies corresponding to those now obtained on locomotives of ordinary standard

Lima, O., Feb. 2.—(UP)—The long delayed flight of George Remus, former millionaire Cincinnati runner, to obtain his release from the state hospital for the criminally insane here has been launched.

Attorneys for the former bootleg king who was committed to the asylum after his acquittal of the murder of his wife, Imogene, have filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus returnable at 2 P. M. tomorrow.

The petition will be heard by Appellate Judges Phil M. Crow, Kent Hughes and Charles L. Justice. The petition asserts Remus has never been found insane and sets forth that two of the three alienists who examined him did not sign the order of the Cincinnati probate court sending him to Lima.

Hartshonne, Okla., Feb. 2.—(UP)—State mine inspectors were investigating today the cause of the gas blast in No. 7 mine of the Rock Island Improvement Co. here last night in which three lives were lost. Seventeen miners escaped.

proportions with higher quality fuel."

Because of the mechanical problems involved only one engine is being ordered at this time. If the locomotive proves serviceable, and railroad operating officials say they believe it will, sufficient additional engines of this design will be purchased by the Northern Pacific to handle all of its through business in the territory between Mandan and Glendive.

NAOMI BRITTON, TEACHER, GIVES HER TESTIMONY

VOICE IS HARDLY AUDIBLE AS SHE TELLS HER STORY IN COURT

FACT SHE PERMITTED MARION TO LEAVE WEIGHS HEAVILY UPON HER

By DAN CAMPBELL

(United Press Staff Correspondent) Court Room, Los Angeles, Feb. 2.—The story of how William Edward Hickman lured Marion Parker from school on the pretext that her father was ill was told a jury in superior court here today.

Naomi Britton, a teacher at the Mount Vernon junior high school, Los Angeles, was called by the defense, which is attempting to prove Hickman insane and save him from hanging for the murder of the little girl.

Miss Britton, a little woman wearing heavy glasses, walked timidly to the witness stand and related how Hickman came to the school and asked for Marion Parker.

Her voice was hardly audible as she told the story and it seemed that the fact that she had permitted Marion to leave school with the youth weighed heavily upon her.

Hickman drove up to the school during the noon recess on December 15 and came to the office and asked for the Parker girl, according to the testimony of Miss Britton.

The youth was informed that there were two Parker girls and Hickman replied that he wanted the youngest one, she said.

Marion was then called to the office and was told her father was ill and that she was wanted at home immediately, Miss Britton continued.

Miss Britton testified that in her opinion Hickman appeared perfectly rational and intelligent when he abducted the child.

Mrs. Mary Holt, another teacher at Marion's school, followed Miss Britton on the stand and recounted her meeting with Hickman.

Courtroom, Los Angeles, Feb. 2.—Fearing collapse of four women on the jury trying William Edward Hickman for the murder of 12-year-old Marion Parker, after pictures of the child's dismembered body had been shown them, Judge J. J. Traub ordered a recess here today.

Pictures of the dismembered body of the little school girl were submitted by the defense as evidence in support of their contention that Hickman was insane at the time of the crime.

The pictures were passed to the jury after they had been identified through the testimony of George Watson from the Los Angeles Times. Men and women members of the jury alike paled as they looked at the exhibits.

Mrs. Emily Lindstrom swayed slightly in her chair and was on the verge of breaking down. Dist. Atty. Asa Keyes handed her a glass of water.

Minneapolis Concern Buys $2,000,000 Milwaukee Corporation

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 2.—(UP)—Shreve M. Archer, president of the Archer Daniels Midland Co., Minneapolis, has announced purchase by his concern of the W. O. Goodrich Co., Milwaukee.

Archer said the purchase price was more than $2,000,000.

The Archer Daniels Midland Co. manufactures linseed products. Archer announced that the corporate identity of the W. O. Goodrich Co. will be retained. Its officers will continue in their present capacities, he said.

TWO MEN TRY TO HOLD UP PUEBLO POLICE STATION

Pueblo, Colo., Feb. 2.—(UP) Two men attempted to hold up the police station last night and as a result one of them is suffering from gunshot wounds and the other is in jail today.

The wounded man is Joe Martinez. His companion is Alfred Fernandez.

The two went to a hallway at the police station where men are permitted to sleep.

Capt. Jack Sullivan came into the hall and went into a private office, the men followed him and when he ordered them from the place, they attacked him.

In the melee that followed, Fernandez took Capt. Sullivan's gun from him and fired. The bullet struck Martinez.

PROHIBITION POLICIES OF SMITH ASSAILED

WM. McADOO MAKES SPEECH TO VIRGINIA ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

PREDICTS END OF 18TH AMENDMENT IF A WET IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

Richmond, Va., Feb. 2.—(UP)—Prohibition policies of Gov. Al Smith of New York were assailed by William G. McAdoo, candidate for the 1924 democratic presidential nomination, in a speech to the Virginia Anti-Saloon League here last night.

McAdoo predicted that an end would be written to the 18th amendment if a wet were elected president. "The white house in the hands of the liquor interests would be a veritable Gibraltar of offensive operations, and the doom of the 18th amendment would be written boldly on the face of the constitution," McAdoo said.

"Attempt is being made to convince the country that no matter if a wet is elected president, the constitution and the laws will be enforced. This is unsound. Neither the constitution nor the law is self-executing."

McAdoo asserted that Smith had advocated repeal of the state enforcement law and then pledged the police power of the state to enforcement of the federal statute. This position was untenable, McAdoo contended, because the state had "been deprived of the best medium of enforcement."

PLUMBERS FIND MUTILATED BODIES OF TWO BABIES

Duluth, Minn., Feb. 2.—(UP)—Authorities today were investigating circumstances surrounding the deaths of two babies whose mutilated bodies were found by plumbers Wednesday in a sewer here.

The plumbers were repairing damage caused by fire in the Sloan block when the discovery was made.

Police expressed the belief that the bodies were possibly mutilated when stuffed into sewer pipes. Physicians expressed the belief that the babies, a boy and a girl, were not more than a week old when they died.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 2.—(UP)—Robert Latimer, 11, confessed, police said today, that he drank poison in the hope of avoiding punishment for shooting an air rifle at a group of little girls.

"I did it so I wouldn't get a licking," he was quoted as saying. "I knew if I got sick I wouldn't get spanked."

He will recover.

75 MILE TRIP FROM ST. THOMAS, VIRGIN ISLANDS

LONE EAGLE'S LAST FLIGHT WAS SHORTEST ONE OF HIS TOUR

PLANS TO SPEND THURSDAY AND FRIDAY AT SAN JUAN

San Juan, Porto Rico, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh arrived at 1:40 P. M. local time today in his Spirit of St. Louis after a 75-mile flight from St. Thomas, Virgin Islands.

St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, Feb. 2.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh left for San Juan, Porto Rico, at 11:50 A. M., today, in his airplane Spirit of St. Louis after a two day visit to St. Thomas.

Colonel Lindbergh's flight was the shortest of his tour—about 75 miles. He planned to spend Thursday and Friday in San Juan, where great preparations have been made to receive him, and to leave for Santo Domingo Saturday morning.

From Santo Domingo Col. Lindbergh was to go to Haiti Monday, preparatory to a flight to Havana next Wednesday—the final stage of his good will tour—to attend the Pan American conference.

St. Louis, Feb. 2.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh plans to arrive back in St. Louis on Monday, February 13, he advised friends here by cablegram from St. Thomas, Virgin Islands.

After his return, he said, he hopes to make an acquaintance-renewing flight over the air-mail routes on which he was employed before embarking on his epochal tours.

"Arrive St. Louis February 13," read his cable to Frank H. Robertson, president of the Robertson Aircraft Company, for which Lindbergh formerly flew the air-mail.

"I understand he plans a non-stop flight direct from Havana to St. Louis, arriving here on the 13th," Robertson told the United Press today.

DULUTH-SUPERIOR HARBOR FIGURES IN HUGE INCREASE

Duluth, Minn., Feb. 2.—(UP)—Preliminary figures on the volume of business in the Duluth-Superior harbor during 1927 showed a huge increase over the previous year, the government engineer's office here has announced.

The report showed a total of shipments and receipts at the harbor last year was $529,640,087, an increase of nearly $100,000,000.

Tonnage carried by 10,259 boats in and out of the harbor last year was 42,286,498. The number of passengers totalled 32,371.

BALKS AT TESTIFYING TO COMMITTEE

SAYS HE GOT NOTHING FROM
CONTINENTAL TRADING
COMPANY DEAL

DECLARES HE NEVER GAVE ANY
OF THE BONDS TO A POLI-
TICAL PARTY

By PAUL R. MALLON

Washington, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the Indiana Standard Oil Company board, refused to tell the senate Teapot Dome committee today what he knew about the mysterious disposition of $3,000,000 profits of the Continental Trading Company.

"I never got a dollar out of the deal personally," Stewart said. "I never gave any of the bonds to any political party, any government official or any official of any municipality."

"Further than that I must decline an answer."

Senator Walsh of Montana announced the committee would give Stewart another chance to answer tomorrow and that if he persisted, contempt proceedings would be begun against him. He would either be taken into custody or cited to the district attorney for court contempt action, Walsh indicated.

Senator Walsh asked him to tell what he knew of formation of the Continental Trading Co., organized to buy millions of barrels of oil at $1.50 a barrel and sell it immediately for $1.75. The committee seeks the reason behind the company's formation and what became of all the profits, some of which went to former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall, after he leased Teapot Dome to Harry F. Sinclair.

Earlier witnesses had testified Stewart attended a meeting in New York when the Continental Trading Company was formed and that he, with Sinclair, had guaranteed the concern.

Stewart told the committee his company (Standard Oil Co., of Indiana) owned half the stock of the Sinclair Pipe Line Company, but he did not know whether there was any interlocking directorate between his company and the Prairie Oil and Gas Company.

"A very fine old gentleman, Col. Humphreys, who was one of the best wild catters in the oil business, in the summer of 1921 brought in the Mexia fields," Stewart said. "His friend was H. M. Blackmer of Denver (missing oil witness and former head of the Midwest Refining Company)."

Stewart admitted he guaranteed the contract whereby the Continental made the $3,000,000 profits the committee is tracing but said he had to do it to get the oil.

"It was just like guaranteeing a note after the note is paid," Stewart said.

For that reason he joined with Harry Sinclair, he said, to consummate the deal.

From these $3,000,000 profits, the committee already has learned that Sinclair sent $233,000 to former Secretary of Interior Fall after Fall had leased Teapot Dome to Sinclair.

Stewart said he heard A. E. Humphreys of the Mexia field, after a Pure oil deal, was willing to sell the other half of his output.

SHORT AND LONG

Washington, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Senator Gooding, (Rep., Idaho) may not press for action on his bill prohibiting railroads from charging proportionately higher rates for short than for long hauls, he told the United Press yesterday.

Several railroads have voluntarily consented to change their rate schedules to eliminate discrimination against short haul shippers," Gooding said, "and if the others take similar action, I shall not press the bill."

Senator Gooding has led the fight for federal legislation to eliminate the practice of charging proportionately higher rates on shipments to Rocky Mountain states than to the Pacific coast.

SUFFERED THE AMPUTATION OF
BOTH LEGS AFTER STRAIGHT-
ENING OPERATION

CHICAGO AUTHORITIES, STATE'S
ATTORNEYS AND THE STATE
DEPARTMENT BUSY

Chicago, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Two groups of investigators today inquired into the circumstances surrounding operations on Miss Sadie Holland, who first underwent an operation designed to straighten her bowed legs, and later suffered amputation of both legs.

The state's attorney's office and the state department of registration both conducted investigations of the operations.

Dr. Henry J. Schireson, plastic surgeon, and Dr. S. D. Zaph, orthopedic surgeon, performed the leg straightening operation. Later, Dr. William Van Doren, Holland family physician, examined the girl and decided to move her to another hospital.

Dr. Van Doren called a surgeon into consultation and it was found that gangrene made amputation of both legs necessary to save Miss Holland's life.

Dr. Schireson, in New York, sent word here today that he considered the entire affair was "a case of professional abduction."

He said the girl was improving rapidly and the "operation was a complete success" until she was moved from the original hospital.

Schireson said the removal was objected to but that "certain relatives of Miss Holland insisted upon it."

"I shall institute suit for $250,000 against the two physicians who took away my patient," he said. "It was nothing more or less than a professional abduction."

Schireson contended the gangrene set in after the removal.

Jury in Hickman Case Hears How Defendant
Lured Little Marion Parker From SchoolN. P. TO HAVE LARGEST STEAM
LOCOMOTIVE

ORDER PLACED FOR CONSTRUCTION OF LARGEST EVER
BUILT IN AMERICA

TO HAVE LENGTH OF 121 FEET,
NEARLY HALF A CITY
BLOCK LONG

St. Paul, Feb. 2.—The Northern Pacific Railway Company today placed an order for construction of the largest steam locomotive ever built in America.

F. E. Williamson, vice president in charge of operation, in making the announcement, gave these details of the specifications:

The locomotive will have a length of 121 feet, nearly one-half as long as an ordinary city block.

Its total weight, including tender, will be 1,082,500 pounds, or 541 tons.

It will have a fire box 22 feet, 2 inches long by 9 feet, 6 inches wide. Its tender will hold 26 tons of coal and 20,000 gallons, or 75 tons of water.

The enormous weight of this colossal will be carried on 20 pairs of wheels, 8 pairs of which will be driving wheels.

The Northern Pacific last year placed in service to haul its North Coast Limited through the mountain country, 12 of the largest steam passenger locomotives ever brought into the northwest. These locomotives are 104 feet in length. The new engine will be 17 feet longer.

The new locomotive just ordered is to be used between Mandan, N. D., and Glendive, Mont., where ruling grades of one per cent predominate. On account of these steep grades it has been impossible to handle with one locomotive east out of Glendive and west out of Mandan, the tonnage that can be handled in to those terminals with one of the Mikado type locomotives now assigned to that territory.

It is now necessary to reduce the tonnage in both directions through this territory, and assignment of this large locomotive will enable the railway company to move the same tonnage through this area as is delivered to it from either end.

The tractive power of the Mikado type is 63,460 pounds, while the tractive effort of the new locomotive will be 137,000 pounds.

The trailer will be equipped with a booster which will exert a tractive effort of 13,400 pounds, making the total for the locomotive 150,400 pounds.

The locomotive, which introduces many new construction problems, has been designed entirely by Northern Pacific engineers. The principal problem is the ability of a mechanical stoker properly to distribute coal over a fire-box which is larger than any heretofore built.

"This locomotive will be the largest and most powerful steam locomotive ever constructed," Mr. Williamson said. "In addition to the enormous size of this unit of power, perhaps the most interesting feature is the fire-box, which has been designed to burn semi-bituminous coal mined at the Northern Pacific's open strip mines at Colstrip, Mont. In order to handle the large quantity of fuel required for operating a locomotive of these proportions it has been necessary to provide a fire-box with a width of 114 inches and length of 266 inches, with a grate 144 inches by 230 inches, giving a grate area of 183 square feet. This is without exception the largest locomotive fire-box ever constructed and it was necessitated on account of the desire to burn this low-grade fuel at combustion efficiencies corresponding to those now obtained on locomotives of ordinary standard

Because of the mechanical problems involved only one engine is being ordered at this time. If the locomotive proves serviceable, and railroad operating officials say they believe it will, sufficient additional engines of this design will be purchased by the Northern Pacific to handle all of its through business in the territory between Mandan and Glendive.

NAOMI BRITTON,
TEACHER, GIVES HER TESTIMONY

VOICE IS HARDLY AUDIBLE AS SHE TELLS HER STORY IN COURT

FACT SHE PERMITTED MARION TO LEAVE WEIGHS HEAVILY UPON HER

By DAN CAMPBELL

(United Press Staff Correspondent) Court Room, Los Angeles, Feb. 2.—The story of how William Edward Hickman lured Marion Parker from school on the pretext that her father was ill was told a jury in superior court here today.

Naomi Britton, a teacher at the Mount Vernon junior high school, Los Angeles, was called by the defense, which is attempting to prove Hickman insane and save him from hanging for the murder of the little girl.

Miss Britton, a little woman wearing heavy glasses, walked timidly to the witness stand and related how Hickman came to the school and asked for Marion Parker.

Her voice was hardly audible as she told the story and it seemed that the fact that she had permitted Marion to leave school with the youth weighed heavily upon her.

Hickman drove up to the school during the noon recess on December 15 and came to the office and asked for the Parker girl, according to the testimony of Miss Britton.

The youth was informed that there were two Parker girls and Hickman replied that he wanted the youngest one, she said.

Marion was then called to the office and was told her father was ill and that she was wanted at home immediately, Miss Britton continued.

Miss Britton testified that in her opinion Hickman appeared perfectly rational and intelligent when he abducted the child.

Mrs. Mary Holt, another teacher at Marion's school, followed Miss Britton on the stand and recounted her meeting with Hickman.

Courtroom, Los Angeles, Feb. 2.—Fearing collapse of four women on the jury trying William Edward Hickman for the murder of 12-year-old Marion Parker, after pictures of the child's dismembered body had been shown them, Judge J. J. Traubucco ordered a recess here today.

Pictures of the dismembered body of the little school girl were submitted by the defense as evidence in support of their contention that Hickman was insane at the time of the crime.

The pictures were passed to the jury after they had been identified through the testimony of George Watson from the Los Angeles Times. Men and women members of the jury alike paled as they looked at the exhibits.

Mrs. Emily Lindstrom swayed slightly in her chair and was on the verge of breaking down. Dist. Atty. Asa Keyes handed her a glass of water.

WM. McADOO MAKES SPEECH TO VIRGINIA ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

PREDICTS END OF 18TH AMENDMENT IF A WET IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

Richmond, Va., Feb. 2.—(UP)—Prohibition policies of Gov. Al Smith of New York were assailed by William G. McAdoo, candidate for the 1924 democratic presidential nomination, in a speech to the Virginia Anti-Saloon League here last night.

McAdoo predicted that an end would be written to the 18th amendment if a wet were elected president.

"The white house in the hands of the liquor interests would be a veritable Gibraltar of offensive operations, and the doom of the 18th amendment would be written boldly on the face of the constitution," McAdoo said.

"Attempt is being made to convince the country that no matter if a wet is elected president, the constitution and the laws will be enforced. This is unsound. Neither the constitution nor the law is self-executing."

McAdoo asserted that Smith had advocated repeal of the state enforcement law and then pledged the police power of the state to enforcement of the federal statute. This position was untenable, McAdoo contended, because the state had "been deprived of the best medium of enforcement."

PLUMBERS FIND

'GETTING A LICKING'

Denver, Colo., Feb. 2.—(UP)—Robert Latimer, 11, confessed, police said today, that he drank poison in the hope of avoiding punishment for shooting an air rifle at a group of little girls.

"I did it so I wouldn't get a licking," he was quoted as saying. "I knew if I got sick I wouldn't get spanked."

He will recover.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh arrived at 1:40 P. M. local time today in his Spirit of St. Louis after a 75-mile flight from St. Thomas, Virgin Islands.

St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, Feb. 2.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh left for San Juan, Porto Rico, at 11:50 A. M., today, in his airplane Spirit of St. Louis after a two day visit to St. Thomas.

Colonel Lindbergh's flight was the shortest of his tour—about 75 miles. He planned to spend Thursday and Friday in San Juan, where great preparations have been made to receive him, and to leave for Santo Domingo, Saturday morning.

From Santo Domingo Col. Lindbergh was to go to Haiti Monday, preparatory to a flight to Havana next Wednesday—the final stage of his good will tour—to attend the Pan American conference.

St. Louis, Feb. 2.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh plans to arrive back in St. Louis on Monday, February 13, he advised friends here by cablegram from St. Thomas, Virgin Islands.

After his return, he said, he hopes to make an acquaintance-renewing flight over the air-mail routes on which he was employed before embarking on his epochal tour.

"Arrive St. Louis February 13," read his cable to Frank H. Robertson, president of the Robertson Aircraft Company, for which Lindbergh formerly flew the air-mail.

"I understand he plans a non-stop flight direct from Havana to St. Louis, arriving here on the 13th," Robertson told the United Press today.

CONSTIPATION IS REAL MODERN ILL

Soft Life and Diet Endanger 90% of City People

Don't trifle with constipation. Medical science says that 90% of modern city people are affected in greater or less degree. The results are headaches, loss of vitality, sallow cheeks, nervousness, sleeplessness, and increased susceptibility to serious diseases which may result in premature disability or death.

Soft life and soft diet are the causes. Primitive man was never troubled with constipation, because roughage in his diet kept him healthy. You can have the same sort of protection—and you must have it. Add bulk and roughage to your diet. The best kind is natural 100% bran—Pillsbury's Health Bran.

Warning—be sure you get natural 100% bran—Pillsbury's Health Bran. That's the kind of bran your doctor means when he says, "Eat bran." Because it is uncooked, unsweetened and unadulterated, it really does the work—you get the full, gentle, natural laxative action of the unbroken flakes. You can use it to prepare any number of delicious foods—muffins, tea-cakes, apple cake, macarons, doughnuts, etc. That's the way to eat bran—your own home baking does not crumble it and reduce its laxative value.

Delightful recipes are printed on every package of Pillsbury's Health Bran—eat it some way three times a day.

Let Us All Study Closely the History Of Our Town

What do you see as you walk down the streets of this town? Buildings of brick and stone? Automobiles and hurrying people? Or are you one of the fortunate few blessed with what old Machiavelli, the Italian philosopher, called the "gift of penetration."

If you are you will see the background of human history around which this town was built. You will see the faces and forms of hardy pioneers whose lives of toil and privation made possible these comfortable streets and homes.

The J. C. Penney Company believes firmly in the future of this town. That is why we chose to live here. Our personal success is bound up with the success of the community. Our home, our interests, our aspirations lie among you.

But we also wish to stop for a moment to recall its glorious past. This will be a more interesting and beautiful land for all of us when an historical background lends color to everyday scenes. Our children will then inherit, not alone a prosperous country, but one with a past and a personality.

CONSTIPATION IS REAL MODERN ILL

Soft Life and Diet Endanger 90% of City People

Don't trifle with constipation. Medical science says that 90% of modern city people are affected in greater or less degree. The results are headaches, loss of vitality, sallow cheeks, nervousness, sleeplessness, and increased susceptibility to serious diseases which may result in premature disability or death.

Soft life and soft diet are the causes. Primitive man was never troubled with constipation, because roughage in his diet kept him healthy. You can have the same sort of protection—and you must have it. Add bulk and roughage to your diet. The best kind is natural 100% bran—Pillsbury's Health Bran.

Warning—be sure you get natural 100% bran—Pillsbury's Health Bran. That's the kind of bran your doctor means when he says, "Eat bran." Because it is uncooked, unsweetened and unadulterated, it really does the work—you get the full, gentle, natural laxative action of the unbroken flakes. You can use it to prepare any number of delicious foods—muffins, tea-cakes, apple cake, macarons, doughnuts, etc. That's the way to eat bran—your own home baking does not crumble it and reduce its laxative value.

Delightful recipes are printed on every package of Pillsbury's Health Bran—eat it some way three times a day.

Let Us All Study Closely the History Of Our Town

What do you see as you walk down the streets of this town? Buildings of brick and stone? Automobiles and hurrying people? Or are you one of the fortunate few blessed with what old Machiavelli, the Italian philosopher, called the "gift of penetration."

If you are you will see the background of human history around which this town was built. You will see the faces and forms of hardy pioneers whose lives of toil and privation made possible these comfortable streets and homes.

The J. C. Penney Company believes firmly in the future of this town. That is why we chose to live here. Our personal success is bound up with the success of the community. Our home, our interests, our aspirations lie among you.

But we also wish to stop for a moment to recall its glorious past. This will be a more interesting and beautiful land for all of us when an historical background lends color to everyday scenes. Our children will then inherit, not alone a prosperous country, but one with a past and a personality.

MISS ELIZABETH REINERTSEN ANNOUNCES LINE-UP SAME AS IN PREVIOUS TILT

Basketball fans will have the opportunity tomorrow night of witnessing the two strongest girls' teams in the district in action when the Crosby-Ironton team and the Brainerd high school girls meet.

The game will start at 7:45 o'clock to be followed by a boys' game between the second team of Crosby-Ironton and the Brainerd second team. Both games promise to be worthwhile seeing.

The Brainerd girls recently played to a 12 to 12 tie with Crosby-Ironton on their own floor and defeated Motley. C-I. also defeated Motley. The two teams are about on an even playing basis, with the possibility of an advantage given Brainerd since the game is to be played here.

The local girls will line up about the same order as that to oppose Motley last Friday when Brainerd won by the count of 32 to 16. Dorothy Kleven, the scoring ace who accounted for 24 out of the 32 points against Motley, will be seen at center forward. Irene Molstad and Edna Fogelstrom will hold down the forward positions with Kathleen Early center, and Roberta Crawford and A. Shields on the guard positions. Lucille Fige, Bernice Hegstead, Wilma Helgeson, Myrtle Jepson will be used as substitutes.

DOUBT EXISTS AS TO RETIREMENT OF JACK DEMPSEY

Los Angeles, Feb. 2. — (UP) — Doubt as to the retirement of Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, existed here today. After telling newspaper men that the announcement made by Tex Rickard in Florida that he would hang up his gloves for good, was correct, Dempsey denied that he would retire.

His latest statement was made to the United Press just before he retired for the night last night.

"I'm not interested in a fight in June, because I'm not sure my eyes will stand it," Dempsey said. "I may never fight again, I can't tell just now."

"No, I haven't definitely retired. I don't know what I'm going to do. I may fight in September, but I won't fight in June."

EPISODES IN THE DRAMATIC CAREER OF JACK DEMPSEY

FIRST EVER TO WIN MILLION DOLLARS WITH HIS TWO FISTS

DEMPSEY QUOTED AS SAYING HE MAY NEVER FIGHT AGAIN

New York, Feb. 2. — (UP) — Announcement of Jack Dempsey's inability to fight in June—whether it be permanent retirement from the ring or just temporary—recalls dramatic episodes in the career of the man from Manassas, the first ever to win a million dollars with his two fists.

Dempsey is quoted from Los Angeles as saying: "I may never fight again. I can't tell just now. But I haven't definitely retired. I don't know what I am going to do. I may fight in September, but I won't fight in June."

The first intimation that Dempsey might be through with the ring came from Tex Rickard at Miami Beach, who said Dempsey had definitely retired as a championship contender and some other opponent would have to be found for Gene Tunney in June.

Dempsey agreed he would be unable to fight in June, owing to eye trouble, but followed with the statement regarding permanent retirement.

Many in New York boxing circles were disinclined to believe that Dempsey had permanently forsaken prize fighting — which he helped build from an ordinary sport to a million dollar business.

From the time when Dempsey poked a cautious, stubbled chin out from beneath a freight car from the west, until the day he cut down big Jess Willard at Toledo, Jack was just one more prize fighter in a motley herd.

From Toledo to today, Dempsey has been a picturesque figure of the American prize ring, yielding the palm only to John L. Sullivan in this respect.

Accused as a war time slacker, married to one of the screen's loveliest actresses, hounded from state to state by a mediocre negro heavyweight, triumphant over all heavyweight opponents from 1919 to 1926, the butt of lawyers and the toast of fight fans, Jack Dempsey had a variegated career.

Just how much money he made it is impossible to say, because the truth in such matters is elusive. But Dempsey netted more than $1,000,000 from the two losing fights he fought with Gene Tunney.

New York, which knew Dempsey only occasionally, only took him to its heart after his defeat. Then, for the first time, Dempsey became popular here.

That his departure from the list of possible opponents for Gene Tunney in June has cost the heavyweight situation and those who benefit therefrom at least $1,000,000 goes without saying.

It is doubtful if even the "elimination tournament," which now takes on new importance in the eyes of Tex Rickard and the public can produce a contender who will draw much more than that sum against Tunney.

Here in New York it is believed that if Tom Heeney gets past Jack Delaney in their elimination bout next month, Rickard will take the opportunity to fulfill his ambition to stage a championship bout in London this year.

The presence of crowds at the Olympic games at Amsterdam and at the Davis Cup matches in France would be an additional incentive for Rickard, and Tunney is said to have a yen for Piccadilly.

BRAINERD SECURES SAFE LEAD IN FIRST HALF FOR EASY WIN

MARSHALL, FITZHARRIS AND WHITLOCK TEAM UP IN SCORING ATTACK

VISITORS TRY HARD FOR COMEBACK IN SECOND HALF WITHOUT SUCCESS

Presenting a system of attack that completely baffled the six foot Frazee cagers, the Brainerd American Legion team came through with a decisive victory last evening at the high school gymnasium by the score of 40 to 21. It was a one-sided game from the middle of the first period.

Frazee scored first but it was short lived when Marshall, Fitzharris and Whitlock gathered in their field goals, running the score up to 32 points in the first half while the guards were holding the Frazee five to eight points.

Time and again in the first half the locals worked their way through the Frazee defense to score. Fitzharris played his best game of the season, teaming up well with Marshall and Whitlock. Marshall used his height to advantage by breaking up many of the Frazee passes. Whitlock was again the threat to an opposing team. He sank eight field goals and one free throw. Lowe and Heikkinen played a strong defensive game and held the Frazee team to six shots in the second half. The forward line gave the opposition only two shots from the center of the floor.

Manager Peterson sent in a new forward line in the second half but it failed to continue the good scoring that the starters displayed. The locals were held to nine points in the second half.

Fitzharris was put out on personal fouls near the close of the first half after scoring four field goals.

The Frazee team showed flashes of speed in the second half by scoring 12 points with Bryson high point man. In the preliminary game Foster's Speed Demons won from Northeast by the score of 19 to 6.

The Mexican president, who has done considerable amateur boxing, told Paulino that he could become world's champion provided he would concentrate on his ambition and diet and train carefully.

BALL PLAYER WOULD RATHER HAVE THE CASH

AMERICAN LEAGUE RECOGNIZES FACT IN AWARDED "MOST VALUABLE PLAYER" HONOR

THIS IS MORE SATISFACTORY THAN FRAMED CERTIFICATE TO HANG ON WALL

By BERT M. DEMBY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Feb. 2. — (UP) — The American league has finally recognized that a ball player knows more about handling a bank draft than he does about framing a diploma.

In the future when a player is voted "most valuable" player honors, instead of being rewarded with a handsome gilt-edged certificate, he will get an order for $1,000.

In taking this action, league officials concurred in a policy practiced by the national league, which, although it copied the American league valuable player idea, has long maintained that a ball player would rather have cash than something to hang on the wall.

The American league originated the valuable player award in 1922 and that year George Sisler, first baseman of the St. Louis Browns, was voted the honors. He got a diploma and lots of publicity, but no cash. Since then Babe Ruth, Walter Johnson, Roger Peckinpaugh, George Burns, and Lou Gehrig have been given diplomas and publicity. Of course, the publicity is not objected to, but there have been many expressions which indicated cold cash would buy real estate which would give ball players more enjoyment in their old age than they would get from admiration of diplomas.

The national league did not start its valuable player award until after the American, but each national league player honored with the award was given $1,000.

In making the money announcement, the officials took occasion to reiterate their original statement that the award is made to the "most valuable player to his club" and not to the most valuable player in the league.

Simultaneously with announcement of the change in the award, came word that the league now has a public relations department—public relations being the modern term for the old fashioned word "publicity."

Henry P. Edwards, for year's a member of the Baseball Writer's association in Cleveland is director of the public relations.

"I know nothing about the deal with Wener or any other man," Townsend said. "I certainly ought to know about it if the club was sold."

"The Pirates have made money each year they have been in professional hockey. Why should I sell a money maker? As long as the club is not losing money, we will continue to stay in the game."

Frank Calder, president of the National League, also denied the sale of the Pirates, but revealed that Wener held an option on the Pirate franchise and players for $150,000.

New York, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Announcement of Jack Dempsey's inability to fight in June—whether it be permanent retirement from the ring or just temporary—recalls dramatic episodes in the career of the man from Manassa, the first ever to win a million dollars with his two fists.

From the time when Dempsey poked a cautious, studded chin out from beneath a freight car from the west, until the day he cut down big Jess Willard at Toledo, Jack was just one more prize fighter in a motley herd.

From Toledo to today, Dempsey has been a picturesque figure of the American prize ring, yielding the palm only to John L. Sullivan in this respect.

Accused as a war time slacker, married to one of the screen's loveliest actresses, hounded from state to state by a mediocre negro heavyweight, triumphant over all heavyweight opponents from 1919 to 1926, the butt of lawyers and the toast of fight fans, Jack Dempsey had a variegated career.

Just how much money he made it is impossible to say, because the truth in such matters is elusive. But Dempsey netted more than $1,000,000 from the two losing fights he fought with Gene Tunney.

New York, which knew Dempsey only occasionally, only took him to its heart after his defeat. Then, for the first time, Dempsey became popular here.

That his departure from the list of possible opponents for Gene Tunney in June has cost the heavyweight situation and those who benefit therefrom at least $1,000,000 goes without saying.

It is doubtful if even the "elimination tournament," which now takes on new importance in the eyes of Tex Rickard and the public can produce a contender who will draw much more than that sum against Tunney.

Here in New York it is believed that if Tom Heeney gets past Jack Delaney in their elimination bout next month, Rickard will take the opportunity to fulfill his ambition to stage a championship bout in London this year.

The presence of crowds at the Olympic games at Amsterdam and at the Davis Cup matches in France would be an additional incentive for Rickard, and Tunney is said to have a yen for Piccadilly.

BRAINERD SECURES SAFE LEAD IN FIRST HALF FOR EASY WIN

MARSHALL, FITZHARRIS AND WHITLOCK TEAM UP IN SCORING ATTACK

VISITORS TRY HARD FOR COMEBACK IN SECOND HALF WITHOUT SUCCESS

Presenting a system of attack that completely baffled the six foot Frazee cagers, the Brainerd American Legion team came through with a decisive victory last evening at the high school gymnasium by the score of 40 to 21. It was a one-sided game from the middle of the first period.

Frazee scored first but it was short lived when Marshall, Fitzharris and Whitlock gathered in their field goals, running the score up to 32 points in the first half while the guards were holding the Frazee five to eight points.

Time and again in the first half the locals worked their way through the Frazee defense to score. Fitzharris played his best game of the season, teaming up well with Marshall and Whitlock. Marshall used his height to advantage by breaking up many of the Frazee passes. Whitlock was again the threat to an opposing team. He sank eight field goals and one free throw. Lowe and Heikkinen played a strong defensive game and held the Frazee team to six shots in the second half. The forward line gave the opposition only two shots from the center of the floor.

Manager Peterson sent in a new forward line in the second half but it failed to continue the good scoring that the starters displayed. The locals were held to nine points in the second half.

Fitzharris was put out on personal fouls near the close of the first half after scoring four field goals.

The Frazee team showed flashes of speed in the second half by scoring 12 points with Bryson high point man. In the preliminary game Poster's Speed Demons won from Northeast by the score of 19 to 6.

BALL PLAYER WOULD RATHER HAVE THE CASH

AMERICAN LEAGUE RECOGNIZES FACT IN AWARDED "MOST VALUABLE PLAYER" HONOR

THIS IS MORE SATISFACTORY THAN FRAMED CERTIFICATE TO HANG ON WALL

By BERT M. DEMBY (United Press Staff Correspondent) Chicago, Feb. 2.—(UP)—The American league has finally recognized that a ball player knows more about handling a bank draft than he does about framing a diploma.

In the future when a player is voted "most valuable" player honors, instead of being rewarded with a handsome gilt-edged certificate, he will get an order for $1,000.

In taking this action, league officials concurred in a policy practiced by the national league, which, although it copied the American league valuable player idea, has long maintained that a ball player would rather have cash than something to hang on the wall.

The American league originated the valuable player award in 1922 and that year George Sisler, first baseman of the St. Louis Browns, was voted the honors. He got a diploma and lots of publicity, but no cash. Since then Babe Ruth, Walter Johnson, Roger Peckinpaugh, George Burns, and Lou Gehrig have been given diplomas and publicity. Of course, the publicity is not objected to, but there have been many expressions which indicated cold cash would buy real estate which would give ball players more enjoyment in their old age than they would get from admiration of diplomas.

The national league did not start its valuable player award until after the American, but each national league player honored with the award was given $1,000.

In making the money announcement, the officials took occasion to reiterate their original statement that the award is made to the "most valuable player to his club" and not to the most valuable player in the league.

Simultaneously with announcement of the change in the award, came word that the league now has a public relations department—public relations being the modern term for the old fashioned word "publicity."

Henry P. Edwards, for year's a member of the Baseball Writer's association in Cleveland is director of the public relations.

DENIES REPORT OF SALE OF PIRATES

TOWNSEND KNOWS OF NO DEAL WITH I. O. WENER OF PHILADELPHIA

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 2.—(UP)—Horace Townsend, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, members of the American division of the national hockey league, today denied reports that the club was sold to I. O. Wener, of Philadelphia, owner of the Arrow Hockey club.

"I know nothing about the deal with Wener or any other man," Townsend said. "I certainly ought to know about it if the club was sold."

"The Pirates have made money each year they have been in professional hockey. Why should I sell a money maker? As long as the club is not losing money, we will continue to stay in the game."

Frank Calder, president of the National League, also denied the sale of the Pirates, but revealed that Wener held an option on the Pirate franchise and players for $150,000.

WHAT CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE ARE DOING

THE city papers recently published resumes of what various Chambers of Commerce did throughout the state last year and it made very interesting reading. As a rule, the organizations are centering work on certain definite objectives and not scattering their energies. The average Chamber has just so much in the way of funds and cannot take up every kind of a project.

For instance, St. Cloud confined itself to a four line statement, stating it brought industries to the city the past year in a merger with a local concern.

At Little Falls Colonel Charles Lindbergh's flights occasioned the biggest undertakings of the year. The homecoming of the flier was the largest. The annual Central Minnesota Golf Association tournament and the state junior baseball league tournament were aided.

Detroit Lakes followed the Brainerd example of gaining favor with the farmers. The club there furnished dinners to 900 farmers on 12 community days, provided entertainment for farmers picnics, operated a tourist campsite, advertising the city, sponsored boy and girl scouts and helped maintain a skating rink and tennis courts.

Elk River helped keep the roads open, aided the Boy Scouts, a local band, and the county fair, maintained a tourist park, helped obtain and retain a county agent and a county nurse and sponsored a picnic for milk producers.

Alexandria centered its whole efforts and commendable ones too on a Kensington Runestone celebration.

Hutchinson made an industrial survey, conducted two friendship tours to nearby towns and organized a poultry association.

Red Wing centered on provision of dock facilities for the Mississippi river barge line service.

Duluth organized a port commission, undertook an industrial survey, selected an airport site, completed central entrances to the city, took steps to reorganize the city's lighting system, organized an agricultural council. Dr. W. A. Coventry, well known in Brainerd, is president of their Chamber of Commerce.

The Long Prairie Community club assisted in building a bandstand at a cost of $700, organized a tree planting drive in which 387 trees were planted on boulevards, and aided in building up the village's trade territory.

Winthrop Commercial club bought a nine hole golf course and a tract of 30 acres for enlargement of a city park.

Albert Lea has a very good program in development work. It organized a community chest which included six societies. Rather than attempting to induce factories to move to their town, the Business Men's League devoted its first efforts to helping the upbuilding and growth of industries already there. Albert Lea, by the way, has a large number of diversified industries located there, packing plant, foundries, etc.

Willmar Commercial club aided in the completion of a new hotel in their town.

Melrose Community club bought a snow plow for opening country roads. It believes in uninterrupted trade relations with the farmers.

The Morris Commercial club assisted in having railway safety signals installed on three grade crossings. A white way is being fostered.

Sleepy Eye conducted a Harmony Day celebration and homecoming fostered by the Commercial club.

Cass Lake Commercial club developed a girls' camp. Dairying was encouraged and agricultural development.

East Grand Forks Commercial club gave prizes for the best yields of potatoes and sugar beets, sponsored a community picnic and a football banquet, and was instrumental in cooperation with North Dakotans in urging a bridge across the Red River.

NORTHWEST IS GOING AHEAD

THE Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse commission, through A. L. Finn, rate expert, filed an objection to the unification of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific roads, and one of its allegations was that "it would result in a large loss to the state in gross earnings."

In its arguments taking up this assertion, the St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press states editorially that this supposes either one of two things—that the merger would result in less business to these roads, or that the rates would be reduced, cutting their gross earnings.

The first does not appear reasonable. The Northwest is going ahead, and that means more business for the railroads. If the saving in operation means a reduction in rates that would meet popular approval—and that would also increase business, and would hold up the earnings of the roads.

The strongest point made was that some of the weaker roads have not been taken into the combine. We understand that these two northern roads are willing to include the lines that would be adversely affected by the unification. That is both logical and necessary, in any combinations of transportation lines in any section of the country. It is the weak lines that have held back the grouping of railroads as a general plan the country over. That is a solution that must be worked out on a fair play basis.

THE merchant who has a pleasant disposition and makes friends easily has a much better asset than low overhead. Couple this asset with a force of alert clerks and success is assured, says the Little Falls Transcript. To which we would add that a proper advertising budget be included with regular advertisements in the home town paper.

BANK bandits stop at nothing these days. They have added kidnaping to other crimes, seizing cashiers or other bank employees, and forcing them to open vaults. A gang operating in Minnesota started a specialty of kidnaping town marshals who interfered in their robbery plans.

IOWA is planning a $100,000,000 bond issue for road improvement in 1928.

No tax cut is better than too much, maintains President Coolidge.

LITTLE FALLS is making efforts to keep highways radiating from the town clear of snow.

GRANT county farmers are in favor of wide sleighs.

Dolores Costello in "OLD SAN FRANCISCO" is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Don Hernandez Vasquez and his beautiful granddaughter Dolores occupy the old Vasquez ranch and hacienda overlooking San Francisco Bay, originally granted to the first Vasquez in 1776 by King Phillip of Spain. The prosperity and wealth that has come to San Francisco as the result of the discovery of gold in California has passed by the Vasquez hacienda where indolent ways have not kept abreast of modern progress.

Alone in the great open patio by the fountain she danced for her strangely assorted audience of three men. Her grandfather, a young Spanish suitor and an aged servant. Yet no dancer of the stage could have been filled with more allure and unconscious charm than Dolores. Nor could any actress have made a more appealing or definite impression on her audience. It vividly recalled the grandfather's youth, it aroused Don Luis' smoldering passions and it made the old peon very proud to serve so lovely a mistress.

Snapping off a rose as she danced past a bush of great crimson beauties, Dolores brought her dance to an end and tossed the blossom to her grandfather with a smile and kiss wafted from her finger tips.

Don Luis sprang gracefully to his feet and catching the rose in mid air took possession of it.

"That was not for you!" objected Dolores.

"Sweet senorita," he pleaded ardently, "be a little kind. I must start back home now—tell me when

Returning to me, he returned the red rose to her.

"I may come again?" His eyes did not leave her face and the rose was held in his slender hand.

"Give me the flower, or you may never come again." She waited imperiously.

"Your will is mine!" and bowing low he returned the red rose to her with such a good grace that she flashed him her most winning smile of friendly forgiveness.

"Come when you please—you know grandfather likes to have you."

"And you? Are you perhaps a little glad when I come?"

"A little—yes." Then when she saw how hurt he appeared she added quickly, "Come often, as you always have, we both like to have you."

Don Luis could not determine whether her interest in him was mere politeness or something warmer controlled by her rigid ideas of girlish modesty. But to him it did not matter—he wanted her because—

"I shall say adios, near Senorita," he said, bowing low over her hand, "and hurry away so there will be no delay in returning to you again!"

After bidding farewell to old Vasquez, Don Luis went to the stable yard for his horse and took a short route to the city.

CHAPTER III

Love at First Sight

After watching Don Luis depart for San Francisco, Dolores turned toward the archway and noticed that two men were observing her from the private driveway in front of the hacienda. She shrank back in embarrassment and concealed herself behind a bower of roses. But it was too late. They had been watching the little scene since she danced for her supposed audience of three.

One man was Michael Brandon, a heavy set, well groomed, pugnacious individual who resembled a well cared for bulldog that was full of fight and ready to attack on the slightest provocation. By profession he was a lawyer and represented a powerful faction in San Francisco. His purpose in life was to make money, regardless of individual rights or the law he knew so well how to get around. It is not quite just to credit Brandon with all bad qualities, yet he probably deserved the classification as he took pains to conceal the good traits that were a childhood inheritance.

"The other uninvited caller was his nephew, Terrance O'Shaughnessy. Only two things could be said about Terry. The untimely, accidental death of his father left him alone, and when affairs were being settled he came across a written request to the effect that in the event of any kind of trouble he was to appeal to his mother's wealthy lawyer brother in San Francisco. Thus it developed that Brandon settled the estate and took Terry into the law office.

Terry was only twenty-three and still believed there were many things worth while in the world besides money and graft. His admiration for the vivid Spanish girl dancing in the patio was a case in point.

"Wonderful!" he exclaimed, as much to himself as to his uncle. "I never saw anything more beautiful!"

Brandon shot him a swift glance. "That's what's the matter with these foreigners," he shifted his long cigar to the other side of his mouth. "Always dreaming and play acting, and never tending to business." Brandon's eyes roved speculatively over the neglected rancho.

"Why worry about business when you can watch a girl like that?" Terry was more alert at detecting feminine charm than in recognizing a good business proposition.

"Humph!" ejaculated Brandon in disgust. "Women can always spend money—but they don't help you make it—leave 'em alone, boy!"

When Vasquez returned from the stable yard after seeing Don Luis off on his horse he was surprised to find Dolores trying to signal him from her place of concealment beside the rose bush. Following her excited hand-waving he looked through the archway and saw the cause of her alarm.

Visitors were most infrequent at the rancho, but Vasquez instinctively felt that the newcomers were gentlemen. Immediately he became the courteous, dignified old grandee welcoming his guests.

"Senors! Won't you come in?" he called cordially.

As Dolores saw the men approach she was seized with a sudden panic. They had spied while she danced and she had a timidity about meeting them. Like a frightened deer looking about for a means of escape she darted up the steps to the overhanging balcony, where, unseen by the men below, she proceeded to do the very thing she had just criticized in the strangers.

"Welcome Senors," greeted Vasquez, bowing low.

Brandon acknowledged the salutation by removing his cigar. "I have come on a matter of important business, which I am sure will be greatly to your advantage," he announced importantly, presenting his card.

Vasquez examined it meaninglessly. A card meant nothing to him. He much preferred the warm clasp of a friendly hand.

"This is my nephew, Mr. O'Shaughnessy," introduced Brandon.

Vasquez again bowed politely.

Terry wanted to offer his hand, but a little awed by the old man's grand manner, could only nod; besides he was wondering what became of the beautiful dancer. She had disappeared as quickly and mysteriously as the lovely worshipped fairies of his own native Ireland.

"We will be more comfortable inside," suggested Vasquez waving his guests into the spacious living room.

As they disappeared beneath the balcony Dolores came down the steps, stealthily, and watched them enter the hacienda. Without knowing why, or what she was singing, a song burst from her heart. She had discovered that the young stranger was interesting and exceedingly good to look upon.

The dimmed elegance of the fine old living room was illuminated by candles that gleamed brighter than their heavy silver candelabra in the mid afternoon light. The flickering glow cast beautiful and fantastic shadows on the heavy draperies, massive furniture and large portraits of noble Vasquezes of Old Spain. Splendid trophies of the chase and an extensive collection of arms with the famous Vasquez sword in a place of honor above the wide fireplace made no impression whatever on Brandon. Slumped carelessly in a big chair he looked across at the stiff formality of his host and announced abruptly:

"Well, let's get down to brass tacks. I'm going to buy your rancho." He twisted his cigar between firm teeth and watched Vasquez narrowly.

THE Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse commission, through A. L. Finn, rate expert, filed an objection to the unification of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific roads, and one of its allegations was that "it would result in a large loss to the state in gross earnings."

In its arguments taking up this assertion, the St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press states editorially that this supposes either one of two things—that the merger would result in less business to these roads, or that the rates would be reduced, cutting their gross earnings.

The first does not appear reasonable. The Northwest is going ahead, and that means more business for the railroads. If the saving in operation means a reduction in rates that would meet popular approval—and that would also increase business, and would hold up the earnings of the roads.

The strongest point made was that some of the weaker roads have not been taken into the combine. We understand that these two northern roads are willing to include the lines that would be adversely affected by the unification. That is both logical and necessary, in any combinations of transportation lines in any section of the country. It is the weak lines that have held back the grouping of railroads as a general plan the country over. That is a solution that must be worked out on a fair play basis.

Dolores Costello in "OLD SAN FRANCISCO" is a Warner Bros. picture production of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Don Hernandez Vasquez and his beautiful granddaughter Dolores occupy the old Vasquez ranch and hacienda overlooking San Francisco Bay, originally granted to the first Vasquez in 1776 by King Phillip of Spain. The prosperity and wealth that has come to San Francisco as the result of the discovery of gold in California has passed by the Vasquez hacienda where indolent ways have not kept abreast of modern progress.

Alone in the great open patio by the fountain she danced for her strangely assorted audience of three men. Her grandfather, a young Spanish suitor and an aged servant. Yet no dance of the stage could have been filled with more allure and unconscious charm than Dolores'. Nor could any actress have made a more appealing or definite impression on her audience. It vividly recalled the grandfather's youth, it aroused Don Luis' smoldering passions and it made the old peon very proud to serve so lovely a mistress.

Snapping off a rose as she danced past a bush of great crimson beauties, Dolores brought her dance to an end and tossed the blossom to her grandfather with a smile and kiss wafted from her finger tips. Don Luis sprang gracefully to his feet and catching the rose in mid air took possession of it. "That was not for you!" objected Dolores.

"Sweet senorita," he pleaded ardently, "be a little kind. I must start back home now—tell me when to make money, regardless of individual rights or the law he knew so well how to get around. It is not quite just to credit Brandon with all bad qualities, yet he probably deserved the classification as he took pains to conceal the good traits that were a childhood inheritance.

The other uninvited caller was his nephew, Terrance O'Shaughnessy. Only fine things could be said about Terry. The untimely, accidental death of his father left him alone, and when affairs were being settled he came across a written request to the effect that in the event of any kind of trouble he was to appeal to his mother's wealthy lawyer brother in San Francisco. Thus it developed that Brandon settled the estate and took Terry into the law office.

Terry was only twenty-three and still believed there were many things worth while in the world besides money and graft. His admiration for the vivid Spanish girl dancing in the patio was a case in point.

"Wonderful!" he exclaimed, as much to himself as to his uncle. "I never saw anything more beautiful!"

Brandon shot him a swift glance. "That's what's the matter with these foreigners," he shifted his long legs to the other side of his mouth. "Always dreaming and play acting, and never tending to business." Brandon's eyes roved speculatively over the neglected rancho.

"Why worry about business when you can watch a girl like that?" Terry was more alert at detecting feminine charm than in recognizing a good business proposition.

"Humph!" ejaculated Brandon in disgust. "Women can always spend money—but they don't help you make it—leave 'em alone, boy!"

When Vasquez returned from the stable yard after seeing Don Luis off on his horse he was surprised to find Dolores trying to signal him from her place of concealment beside the rose bush. Following her excited hand-waving he looked through the archway and saw the cause of her alarm.

Visitors were most infrequent at the rancho, but Vasquez instinctively felt that the newcomers were gentlemen. Immediately he became the courteous, dignified old grandee welcoming his guests.

"Senors! Won't you come in?" he called cordially.

As Dolores saw the men approach she was seized with a sudden panic. They had spied while she danced and she had a timidity about meeting them. Like a frightened deer looking about for a means of escape she darted up the steps to the overhanging balcony, where, unseen by the men below, she proceeded to do the very thing she had just criticized in the strangers.

"Welcome Senors," greeted Vasquez, bowing low.

Brandon acknowledged the salutation by removing his cigar. "I have come on a matter of important business, which I am sure will be greatly to your advantage," he announced importantly, presenting his card.

Vasquez examined it meaninglessly. A card meant nothing to him. He much preferred the warm clasp of a friendly hand.

"This is my nephew, Mr. O'Shaughnessy," introduced Brandon.

Vasquez again bowed politely.

Terry wanted to offer his hand, but a little awed by the old man's grand manner, could only nod; besides he was wondering what became of the beautiful dancer. She had disappeared as quickly and mysteriously as the lovely worshipped fairies of his own native Ireland.

"We will be more comfortable inside," suggested Vasquez waving his guests into the spacious living room.

As they disappeared beneath the balcony Dolores came down the steps, stealthily, and watched them enter the hacienda. Without knowing why, or what she was singing, a song burst from her heart. She had discovered that the young stranger was interesting and exceedingly good to look upon.

The dimmed elegance of the fine old living room was illuminated by candles that glowed brighter than their heavy silver candelabra in the mid afternoon light. The flickering glow cast beautiful and fantastic shadows on the heavy draperies, massive furniture and large portraits of noble Vasquezes of Old Spain. Splendid trophies of the chase and an extensive collection of arms with the famous Vasquez sword in a place of honor above the wide fireplace made no impression whatever on Brandon. Slumped carelessly in a big chair he looked across at the stiff formality of his host and announced abruptly:

"Well, let's get down to brass tacks. I'm going to buy your ranch." He twisted his cigar between firm teeth and watched Vasquez narrowly.

NOT SING 'ONWARD
CHRISTIAN SOLDIERS'

Washington, Feb. 1. — UP.—Bituminous coal strikers in Pennsylvania have been prevented by court injunction from singing "Onward Christian Soldiers," Senator Hiram Johnson of California told the sen-

He demanded action on his resolution to authorize a senate investigation of conditions in the coal fields of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia.

LIONS CLUB SPONSORS CALF CLUB PROJECT

Vote to Assist Boys and Girls in County Club to be Organized Soon

EXPECT 35 MEMBERS

Calves to be Selected From Jersey, Guernsey and Holstein Breeds

The Lions club last evening went on record to foster the Calf club movement among boys and girls in Crow Wing county following an expression by County Agent E. G. Roth as to the particular advantage of such a movement.

The plan as outlined by Mr. Roth specifies that each Lion member be responsible for one boy or girl in the county as a dairy calf member. They will be responsible for their individual member. In cases where calves are purchased, Lions may assist in endorsing the note.

Entries to the club will be received before March 15 and work of the Calf club will commence about April 1. It is expected that there will be between 30 to 35 members in the club. Later in the season a show will be held and prize calves will be selected. The selection of calves will be made from the Jersey, guernsey and holstein breeds.

The publicity committee was authorized to select two men to represent the club at the Arrowhead convention at Hibbing on February 16 and also to attend to the necessary publicity work for the convention.

The pickle factory matter was referred to the major activities committee.

"7TH HEAVEN" A TRIUMPH

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell Star in the Best Picture of Years

All that has been claimed for it and more, was the verdict of the audience who witnessed the first showing of "7th Heaven" at the Lyceum yesterday. It is the most appealing picture that this reviewer has ever seen, both to the heart and the brain. This marvelous love story, that for sheer simplicity can not be equalled, carries to the heights of stardom Fox Films new find Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell. These two give a performance that surpasses in simple sincerity any that has yet been done on the screen. The wistful beauty of Janet Gaynor smiling through her tears, weary of body and soul, but still climbing hopefully with Chico up the winding stairs to 7th Heaven is something many will go to see again and perhaps yet again.

It is a marvelous picture this "7th Heaven" with a story that grips the heart and the imagination, with its fascinating revelation of character as portrayed by such artists as Gladys Brockwell, Ben Bard, David Butler, George Stone and Albert Gran as well as many others in parts not so important.

But shining above the rest like twin stars of beauty, are the portrayals of Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell. You must go to see this picture at least once. And the chances are you will go to see it again.

MAKE EFFORT TO REACH ALL BOYS

1928 Promises to be Best Year for Rural Scouting, Regional Man States

COVERS ENTIRE AREA

Crow Wing Council Chosen as One of Five in State for Demonstration

The year 1928 will be the best for rural scouting in the history of the Crow Wing Area Council. F. H. Bakken, director of rural scouting, region ten, stated today on his visit to Brainerd and community.

Mr. Bakken in company with Scout Executive B. Perry Newton yesterday visited some of the outlying territories and reported favorably on the conditions of scouting there.

A showing of the problem that faces the Crow Wing area if all rural boys were to be entered in scouting, figures taken from the schools in Aitkin county which is a part of the area, follows: 313 boys in the 18 schools have over 8 boys of scout age, 137 boys in 22 schools have from five to seven boys of scout age, 99 boys of 27 schools have three and four boys of scout age, 49 boys in 31 schools have one and two boys of scout age.

A similar survey is being made of all counties in the area with the view of determining the best method of reaching the farm boy. Due to generous gifts from interested men in the Twin Cities regional men will be able to devote much time in aiding local executives in the new rural scouting program.

The Crow Wing council has been chosen as one of the five councils in Minnesota for rural scouting demonstration. Within the next few weeks rural teachers will be given the privilege of organizing small home patrol groups in connection with their schools. Educators everywhere are finding that scouting in rural areas takes the place of the extra curricular activities so prevalent in the city schools.

PENNEY CO. OPENS THOUSANDTH STORE

Official Opening to Take Place at Beloit, Kansas, About April 1

ROMANTIC INTEREST ATTACHED

Company Purchased Store in Preference to Opening Competitive One

The J. C. Penney Company has announced that store number one thousand will be opened in Beloit, Mitchell county, Kansas, about April first.

A romantic interest attaches itself to this simple announcement and one that proves even a business as large as this one is not devoid of sentiment and human interest.

The J. C. Penney Company has purchased the stock and goodwill of W. J. Keyes, Beloit clothing and shoe merchant. It was in Mr. Keyes' store that Mr. Samis, the president of the company, as well as several of the other executives and managers, received their early mercantile experience.

Out of friendship for Mr. Keyes, the J. C. Penney Company has refrained from opening a competing store in Beloit. When Mr. Keyes recently expressed a wish to retire, however, the company offered to buy his stock and dispose of it, and then open under their own name in a nearby location. The lease has been signed and the store building is now in operation and will be completed in time for the opening in the early part of April.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 2.—(AP)—G. A. Youngquist, senior assistant attorney general of Minnesota will be elevated to the attorney generalship by appointment of Gov. Theodore Christianson, it was indicated today. The appointment to fill a vacancy created by the death last week of Attorney General A. F. Pratt, Anoka, is expected to be announced at noon.

CONDUCT RITES FOR FIRE VICTIM

Little Edith Marie McKay Laid to Rest in Evergreen Plot This Afternoon

BROTHER IMPROVING

Long Lake, Oak Lawn, and Brainerd Join in Rendering Assistance

The little body of Edith Marie McKay, three year old victim of suffocation Monday afternoon when the home of Mr. and Mrs. George McKay in Long Lake township was destroyed by fire was laid to rest this afternoon in a little plot in Evergreen cemetery while the many friends of the bereaved family mourned with the parents over the loss of their young daughter.

The funeral rites conducted this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home of A. M. Allen, South Sixth street, brother of Mrs. McKay were impressive. Friends gathered to pay their last respects to the little girl whose life was snuffed out while she slept by smoke filling the house.

While the funeral services were being conducted for his sister, Clarence Earl, 19 month baby was being cared for at the St. Joseph's hospital. The child suffered from the effects of smoke and burns but is reported to be on his way to recovery. The mother, Mrs. McKay, who was injured in her heroic dash into the house when she carried out the lifeless form of the young girl and the child who was overcome was able to leave the hospital Tuesday.

Friends in Oak Lawn, Long Lake townships, and Brainerd tendered their condolences to the bereaved family. The Long Lake and Oak Lawn sewing circles have aided in giving them clothing and Brainerd business firms have contributed household articles. In addition a fund is being raised. The figure is reported today to have raised to $150.

Tired Mr. Groundhog Welcomes His Shadow

Another six weeks of winter—and Mr. Groundhog doesn't give a continental. It means just another nice sleep for him.

Jimmy Groundhog, true to schedule, wobbled out of his hole in the ground at exactly 11 o'clock this morning. He was so tired and the sun blinked his eyes so that he was forced to raise one of his paws to shield his eyes. He blinked his eyes and looked around. "Ah," he cried "there it is." And is it to shake the heavy burden of his shadow from him he slunk back to his hole and with a sigh of contentment was again fast asleep.

But gentle Robin Redbreast who has been flitting around Brainerd recently was very happy. He loved the warm sunshine and dreamed of the time not far hence when spring will again make him the happiest of birds.

The story is told that there are two robins in Brainerd and that the one, a mother robin had injured a wing and was unable to fly to the southland when the cold came. Her mate remained with her to provide and care for her during the winter.

To enliven the carnival further the American Auxiliary orchestra will be in attendance and render popular selections. Al Mraz and Rowland Jenkins will delight the audience with their songs.

Every available space in the school will be used to house all the attractions. The Hawaiian Musical troupe, the beauty parlor, fish pond and fun house and other side shows will provide the necessary fun to attract a large attendance.

LIONS CLUB SPONSORS CALF CLUB PROJECT

Vote to Assist Boys and Girls in County Club to be Organized Soon

EXPECT 35 MEMBERS

Calves to be Selected From Jersey,
Guernsey and Holstein
Breeds

The Lions club last evening went on record to foster the Calf club movement among boys and girls in Crow Wing county following an expression by County Agent E. G. Roth as to the particular advantage of such a movement.

The plan as outlined by Mr. Roth specifies that each Lion member be responsible for one boy or girl in the county as a dairy club calf member. They will be responsible for their individual member. In cases where calves are purchased, Lions may assist in endorsing the note.

Entries to the club will be received before March 15 and work of the Calf club will commence about April 1. It is expected that there will be between 30 to 35 members in the club. Later in the season a show will be held and prize calves will be selected. The selection of calves will be made from the Jersey, Guernsey and Holstein breeds.

The publicity committee was authorized to select two men to represent the club at the Arrowhead convention at Hibbing on February 16 and also to attend to the necessary publicity work for the convention. The pickle factory matter was referred to the major activities committee.

The early life, domestic, his career as a lawyer, and his deeds as a man and president that made Abraham Lincoln, one of the two greatest men in the history of America, were reviewed by Judge L. B. Kinder in his interesting talk on "The Human Side of Abraham Lincoln."

"7TH HEAVEN" A TRIUMPH

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell
Star in the Best Picture of Years

All that has been claimed for it and more, was the verdict of the audience who witnessed the first showing of "7th Heaven" at the Lyceum yesterday. It is the most appealing picture that this reviewer has ever seen, both to the heart and the brain. This marvelous love story, that for sheer simplicity can not be equalled, carries to the heights of stardom Fox Films new find Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell. These two give a performance that surpasses in simple sincerity any that has yet been done on the screen. The wistful beauty of Janet Gaynor smiling through her tears, weary of body and soul, but still climbing hopefully with Chico up the winding stairs to 7th Heaven is something many will go to see again and perhaps yet again.

It is a marvelous picture this "7th Heaven" with a story that grips the heart and the imagination, with its fascinating revelation of character as portrayed by such artists as Gladys Brockwell, Ben Bard, David Butler, George Stone and Albert Gran as well as many others in parts not so important.

But shining above the rest like twin stars of beauty, are the portrayals of Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell. You must go to see this picture at least once. And the chances are you will go to see it again.

MAKE EFFORT TO REACH ALL BOYS

1928 Promises to be Best Year for Rural Scouting, Regional Man States

COVERS ENTIRE AREA

Crow Wing Council Chosen as One of Five in State for Demonstration

The year 1928 will be the best for rural scouting in the history of the Crow Wing Area Council. F. H. Bakken, director of rural scouting, region ten, stated today on his visit to Brainerd and community.

Mr. Bakken in company with Scout Executive B. Perry Newton yesterday visited some of the outlying territories and reported favorably on the conditions of scouting there.

A showing of the problem that faces the Crow Wing area if all rural boys were to be entered in scouting, figures taken from the schools in Aitkin county which is a part of the area, follows: 313 boys in the 18 schools have over 8 boys of scout age, 137 boys in 22 schools have from five to seven boys of scout age, 99 boys of 27 schools have three and four boys of scout age, 49 boys in 31 schools have one and two boys of scout age.

A similar survey is being made of all counties in the area with the view of determining the best method of reaching the farm boy. Due to generous gifts from interested men in the Twin Cities regional men will be able to devote much time in aiding local executives in the new rural scouting program.

The Crow Wing council has been chosen as one of the five councils in Minnesota for rural scouting demonstration. Within the next few weeks rural teachers will be given the privilege of organizing small home patrol groups in connection with their schools. Educators everywhere are finding that scouting in rural areas takes the place of the extra curricular activities so prevalent in the city schools.

PENNEY CO. OPENS THOUSANDTH STORE

Official Opening to Take Place at Beloit, Kansas, About
April 1

ROMANTIC INTEREST ATTACHED

Company Purchased Store in Preference to Opening Competitive One

The J. C. Penney Company has announced that store number one thousand will be opened in Beloit, Mitchell county, Kansas, about April first.

A romantic interest attaches itself to this simple announcement and one that proves even a business as large as this one is not devoid of sentiment and human interest.

The J. C. Penney Company has purchased the stock and goodwill of W. J. Keyes, Beloit clothing and shoe merchant. It was in Mr. Keyes' store that Mr. Sams, the president of the company, as well as several of the other executives and managers, received their early mercantile experience.

Out of friendship for Mr. Keyes, the J. C. Penney Company has refrained from opening a competing store in Beloit. When Mr. Keyes recently expressed a wish to retire, however, the company offered to buy his stock and dispose of it, and then open under their own name in a nearby location. The lease has been signed and the store building is now in operation and will be completed in time for the opening in the early part of April.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 2.—(AP)—G. A. Youngquist, senior assistant attorney general of Minnesota will be elevated to the attorney generalship by appointment of Gov. Theodore Christianson, it was indicated today. The appointment to fill a vacancy created by the death last week of Attorney General A. F. Pratt, Anoka, is expected to be announced at noon.

CONDUCT RITES FOR FIRE VICTIM

Little Edith Marie McKay Laid to

Assistance

The little body of Edith Marie McKay, three year old victim of suffocation Monday afternoon when the home of Mr. and Mrs. George McKay in Long Lake township was destroyed by fire was laid to rest this afternoon in a little plot in Evergreen cemetery while the many friends of the bereaved family mourned with the parents over the loss of their young daughter.

The funeral rites conducted this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home of A. M. Allen, South Sixth street, brother of Mrs. McKay were impressive. Friends gathered to pay their last respects to the little girl whose life was snuffed out while she slept by smoke filling the house.

While the funeral services were being conducted for his sister, Clarence Earl, 19 month baby was being cared for at the St. Joseph's hospital. The child suffered from the effects of smoke and burns but is reported to be on his way to recovery. The mother, Mrs. McKay, who was injured in her heroic dash into the house when she carried out the lifeless form of the young girl and the child who was overcome was able to leave the hospital Tuesday.

Friends in Oak Lawn, Long Lake townships, and Brainerd tendered their condolences to the bereaved family. The Long Lake and Oak Lawn sewing circles have aided in giving them clothing and Brainerd business firms have contributed household articles. In addition a fund is being raised. The figure is reported today to have raised to $150.

Tired Mr. Groundhog Welcomes His Shadow

Another six weeks of winter—and Mr. Groundhog doesn't give a continental. It means just another nice sleep for him.

Jimmy Groundhog, true to schedule, wobbled out of his hole in the ground at exactly 11 o'clock this morning. He was so tired and the sun blinked his eyes so that he was forced to raise one of his paws to shield his eyes. He blinked his eyes and looked around. "Ah," he cried "there it is." And is it to shake the heavy burden of his shadow from him he slunk back to his hole and with a sigh of contentment was again fast asleep.

But gentle Robin Redbreast who has been flitting around Brainerd recently was very happy. He loved the warm sunshine and dreamed of the time not far hence when spring will again make him the happiest of birds.

The story is told that there are two robins in Brainerd and that the one, a mother robin had injured a wing and was unable to fly to the southland when the cold came. Her mate remained with her to provide and care for her during the winter.

Complete Success

TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Theatrical Presentation of "Who Pays" to Include Five
Local Artists

The Lincoln P. T. A. carnival will hold the center of attraction in events in Brainerd Saturday night. The committees have worked to make the carnival an even greater success than the one last year which was attended by hundreds of Brainerd and country people.

A special theatrical presentation entitled "Who Pays" with five local actors and actresses taking part will be one of the highlights of the evening. A Spanish dance promises added interest as well as a dialogue by grade school pupils.

To enliven the carnival further the American Auxiliary orchestra will be in attendance and render popular selections. Al Mraz and Rowland Jenkins will delight the audience with their songs.

Every available space in the school will be used to house all the attractions. The Hawaiian Musical troupe, the beauty parlor, fish pond and fun house and other side shows will provide the necessary fun to attract a large attendance.

Sandwiches, apple pie a la mode, cake and coffee will be served in the lunch room. The Katzenjammer Castle will provide fun for young and old. The bird show will be under the direction of Mrs. J. A. Thabes and Miss Millena Vanasek.

DAGGETT BROOK

Carl Gordon has been sawing wood for a number of the neighbors lately. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gorton visited at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Gorton Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Gorton and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glidden visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. James Monday evening. Mr. Glidden will be remembered by many of the older settlers of this community as he lived here years ago.

Quite a number of folks were at the school house last Saturday evening at the "get-together" meeting and all were glad to hear the talk given by the county nurse, Miss Ingebritson, on immunizing the children of the district for diphtheria of which there is talk of doing in the near future. After the county nurse's talk there was a short program, and a delicious lunch was served. Games were also played. All report a good time.

Wm. Raiht was in Brainerd Monday afternoon.

FOUR CABINET MEMBERS RESIGN AT BELGRADE

INCLUDES THE NOTABLE FOREIGN MINISTER MARINKOVITCH

AUTHORITATIVE CIRCLES BELIEVE IT WILL RESULT IN GENERAL ELECTIONS

Belgrade, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Authoritative circles today believed resignation of four members of the cabinet—including Foreign Minister Marinkovitch—would result in almost immediate general elections.

Dr. Vojta Marinkovitch's resignation was believed caused by his personal differences with M. Dadovitch, leader of the democratic party. It was considered likely the four remaining members of the democratic party would resign.

The foreign minister recently had gained prominence in international circles through signing of the famous friendship treaty between France and Jugoslavia. It was this treaty that caused so much opposition in Italy and was believed to have resulted in the Italian-Albanian treaty whereby each country promised to help the other in time of war.

Dr. Marinkovitch had insisted throughout that the moles of Jugoslavia were peaceful and that his country desired peace with Italy.

TAXICAB MAN OF ROCHESTER IS CANDIDATE

ENTERS MAYORALTY LISTS AND RECEIVES LOT OF SUPPORT

IS IN FAVOR OF REFORMS. HAS GRIEVANCE AGAINST DANCE HALLS

Rochester, Minn., Feb. 2.—(UP)—Twenty-four hours after he announced his candidacy for mayor of Rochester, J. F. (Fat) Thompson today found that he had more supporters than he thought he could muster to his cause even though he planned a house to house campaign for votes.

Entering the race on a reform platform, Thompson, a taxicab driver, declared his greatest grievance was against the dance hall and the manner of conduct within them.

He had no ideas on the wet and dry question.

In announcing his candidacy, Thompson denied he was a reformer, yet admitted that lots of things needed reforming.

Declaring that his object in offering his services to Rochester as its public executive was purely personal, the taxicabman indicated he had paid no attention to the activities of "Battling Tom" O'Malia, mayor of Lindale, O., and Bossy Gillis, executive of Newburyport, Conn.

"It's just because I think we need a good mayor that I entered this race," Thompson, who is 31 years old, declared.

They were caught, scantily dressed, walking along a snow-covered street yesterday. Mary Smith, 20, and Katherine Showalter, 17, are still missing.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Drink Water to Help Wash Out Kidney Poison

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Begin Taking Salts

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active. Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try it, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

FOUR CABINET MEMBERS RESIGN AT BELGRADE

INCLUDES THE NOTABLE FOREIGN MINISTER MARINKOVITCH

AUTHORITATIVE CIRCLES BELIEVE IT WILL RESULT IN GENERAL ELECTIONS

Belgrade, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Authoritative circles today believed resignation of four members of the cabinet—including Foreign Minister Marinkovitch—would result in almost immediate general elections.

Dr. Vojta Marinkovitch's resignation was believed caused by his personal differences with M. Dadovitch, leader of the democratic party. It was considered likely the four remaining members of the democratic party would resign.

The foreign minister recently had gained prominence in international circles through signing of the famous friendship treaty between France and Yugoslavia. It was this treaty that caused so much opposition in Italy and was believed to have resulted in the Italian-Albanian treaty whereby each country promised to help the other in time of war.

Dr. Marinkovitch had insisted throughout that the moles of Yugoslavia were peaceful and that his country desired peace with Italy.

TAXICAB MAN OF ROCHESTER IS CANDIDATE

ENTERS MAYORALTY LISTS AND RECEIVES LOT OF SUPPORT

IS IN FAVOR OF REFORMS, HAS GRIEVANCE AGAINST DANCE HALLS

Rochester, Minn., Feb. 2.—(UP)—Twenty-four hours after he announced his candidacy for mayor of Rochester, J. F. (Fat) Thompson today found that he had more supporters than he thought he could muster to his cause even though he planned a house to house campaign for votes.

Entering the race on a reform platform, Thompson, a taxicab driver, declared his greatest grievance was against the dance hall and the manner of conduct within them.

He had no ideas on the wet and dry question.

In announcing his candidacy, Thompson denied he was a reformer, yet admitted that lots of things needed reforming.

Declaring that his object in offering his services to Rochester as its public executive was purely personal, the taxicabman indicated he had paid no attention to the activities of "Battling Tom" O'Malley, mayor of Lindale, O., and Bossy Gillis, executive of Newburyport, Conn.

"It's just because I think we need a good mayor that I entered this race," Thompson, who is 31 years old, declared.

3 GIRLS ESCAPE FROM TRAINING SCHOOL, NOW SICK

Washington, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Three of the five girls who escaped Sunday from a juvenile training school at Muirkirk, Md., by attacking a woman instructor and stealing her keys were under treatment for colds at a hospital here yesterday.

They were caught, scantily dressed, walking along a snow-covered street yesterday. Mary Smith, 20, and Katherine Showalter, 17, are still missing.

Another Fuel Station

The story is told of a motorist entering a restaurant with his inamorata and saying absent-mindedly to the waiter, "Fill her up."—Boston Transcript.
